

Sam and Sara's thrilling adventure in Tubby Town

For a winter holiday, Sam and Sara visited a new town where they saw a surprisingly view. Most Kids were obese and stayed inside the house while eating unhealthy snacks plus watching television all day long. Also, there were not any children playing outside even though it was a sunny and breezy day.

With their super powers, Sam and Sara thought ways to make the people fit and eat various healthy group foods. Sam, who has full energy from eating carbohydrate and drinking enough water makes him strong and a fast runner while Sara is not only very tall from the dairy that she takes everyday but also always joyful due to the plenty portion of nuts and fruit consumed. Then, they came up with an awesome idea to arrange a fun fair to attract children going out from their houses. They spread the leaflet which said by eating one healthy food from the fair they will get a ticket. Sam and Sara planned the funfair to be big in the centre of the city with huge lights with different colors hanging on the sides of the fair to make it more festive.

On the day of the fun fair, excited kids gathered to greet Sara and Sam who gave free nutritious food and let them in. The activities there were super interesting where some kids did bicycle and sack races while others joined skipping, hula-hoop and trampoline jumping but the one most kids went to was the dancing contest. They had fun making up their own moves and at the end of all of it, everyone won a stuffed fruit toy and they live energetic happily ever after.
